

DISCLOSURE

---

Disclosure Statement

No promise is made to guarantee the accuracy, timeliness or completeness of any information or claims presented on this website. The website visitors accept its strictly informative purpose, and therefore they shall not make any claim, demand or cause of action on the basis of the information on this website. Any records are subject to change without notice.

This web site was created for information convenience only, and it does not present an offer or solicitation to purchase or sell any securities mentioned in this web site. Furthermore, the value of the securities mentioned may fluctuate depending on the open stock market activity. Past performance does not predict future performance returns.

Scholtz & Company is not responsible for the claims made on the websites that are hyperlinked to this website.

Regulator

Scholtz & Company, LLC is federally registered with the Securities & Exchange Commission ("SEC") under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

---